Meth Lab Investigator Training

Registration Form

On May 7 - 10, 2012 the Meth Lab Investigator class is being offered at the North Las Vegas Training Center. This is a 32-hour training program designed for law enforcement officers. The Meth Lab Investigator training program consists of four days of training which is presented by experienced meth lab investigators. You will master techniques needed to present flawless cases and identify evidence necessary to support your charges. Officers will use electronic pseudoephedrine logs, trash pulls and an expert understanding of items from meth labs to bring charges, support the investigation and produce effective prosecutions. This class is not just a classroom training, it involves extensive practical hands-on instruction. You will be ready to hit the field and start an investigation following our class.

Tuition includes all training materials and instruction.
